Dear Praying Friends,

I hope everyone is having a good start to the new year. Our family has experienced some changes, but we are doing well and look forward to what God will do in 2026. Many of you have sent us financial gifts over the past few months, and I want to say THANK YOU for each and every gift, as they are such a blessing to our family.

I mentioned that our family has experienced some changes, and, as you may have guessed, that means our son, Devin, has shipped to San Diego for Marine Boot Camp. He left for San Diego on January 5th and has now been in for four weeks. We had a very quick phone call when he arrived; he could only read a short script to let us know he had arrived safely, and then he sent a letter a couple of weeks ago. He experienced some sickness when he first got there, but we are trusting he has moved past that now. Otherwise, it sounded like things were going well. We appreciate your prayers for Devin and our family, and ask you to continue praying for Devin's physical, mental, and spiritual strength, especially as he completes boot camp to become a Marine. We look forward to seeing him again at his graduation!

Our church is continuing to grow. We are excited that our new members from November and December have been faithfully attending most services and are increasing in the grace and knowledge of the Lord. There has been some illness, for which I ask for prayer for one of our couples, but otherwise, everyone is doing well. As I mentioned in the last letter, the hotel conference room we use for services is finally fully remodeled, and all the small details are complete with it as well. We had several weeks of working through issues, but the hotel's management and staff were great at helping us get what we needed.

The week after Devin's ship date, I had the opportunity to fly out to Illinois to be a part of an ordination committee for a church planter friend who is starting a church in a nearby city, and it was a blessing to see the support of his sending church and family who are standing behind him during this journey God has before him. Thankfully, I had a preacher friend from Helena fill in for me during my absence at our Sunday services.

As always, we sincerely thank you for your prayers, support, and gifts, which you have faithfully shared with us over the years and now. I appreciate those who email and text to encourage us along the way. It is a blessing to know that God is with us, and He shows us that through you all. May God bless you in your service for Him, and your churches, as you continue to faithfully serve to reach this world for Christ.

In Christ,
Dustin, Melissa, Devin, and Lydia Beck
