Dear Praying Friends,

Thank you to each of you who contributes to supporting our family through your prayers and financial support. You are a blessing to us. Our family is doing well, and the church is as well. God has been working in our church family, and things are going very well. We are looking forward to getting our door-to-door outreach underway again this coming month as well.

In the last month, I mentioned that our family has been going through some changes with Devin starting boot camp. As previously mentioned, he had been dealing with some illness at the beginning, but he was able to call us a couple of times and let us know he had gotten past it. He is doing well now and sounds very good. We have been excited to hear his voice on the phone calls he has been able to make. Graduation is coming up in April, and we are excited to see him in person and learn about his next steps. I can't speak to everything publicly, but know that we covet your prayers and appreciate you all for praying for him in this journey and the journey to come.

The church continues to do well. Our newest members from the fall of last year have plugged in, and they remain faithfully attending our services. We started some fellowship times this year, and this past Sunday was well attended by most of our membership and guests. It was a good time to talk with everyone and grow a little closer in our relationships. I recently had a man visit our church who needed some financial help in a particular area. I told him we couldn't do much, but to come to a service, and we would discuss the need. I was able to talk to him about his faith, and long story short, share the Gospel with him. He wasn't quite ready to get saved, but I think he has realized he is lost and needs Christ. Pray that Joseph will come back, and I will have another opportunity to speak with him. We have at least one person who has come to me asking about going door-to-door to share the Gospel. We are planning to get the church started back going out in the next couple of weeks.

Thank you for your continued emails and text messages of encouragement, and especially your prayers for our family and ministry here in Butte. It is a blessing to receive the reminders that you are behind us. May God bless each of you and your church families as we serve the Lord together.

In Christ,
Dustin, Melissa, Devin, and Lydia Beck
